STOP APARTHEID BOYCOTT SHELL!

SHELL OUT OF SOUTH AFRICA AND NAMIBIA

Millions of people around the world are showing their opposition to apartheid by boycotting Shell.

WHY SHELL?

- ★ SHELL South Africa fuels the military and police, supplying around one barrel every 20 seconds. It works closely with the military to defend this supply.
- ★ SHELL helps South Africa to break the oil embargo of producing countries by
 - selling oil to traders who ship it to South Africa
 - buying, handling and refining the embargoed oil in South Africa.
- ★ SHELL operates in Namibia, thus supporting South Africa's illegal occupation. SHELL has admitted to supplying some 20% of the military's fuel needs.
- ★ SHELL treats its black workforce badly: many workers live in miserable conditions, and few blacks have any chance of reaching management positions.
- ★ SHELL invests heavily in the apartheid economy, including coal, metals, chemicals, gas, candles and forestry, as well as oil. Its worldwide links provide technology and other outside help. This helps to sustain the oppression of the black majority.

WE CALL ON SHELL TO END COLLABORATION WITH APARTHEID BY WITHDRAWING COMPLETELY FROM SOUTH AFRICA AND NAMIBIA.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

Boycott all SHELL products. Ask your friends to do the same.

Ask your Local Authority and other public users not to buy SHELL products, e.g. for heating schools etc.

Persuade institutional shareholders (e.g. Council or trade union pension funds) to sell their shares in SHELL in protest against SHELL's role in South Africa and Namibia.

Write to SHELL's chairman Peter Holmes, Shell Centre, London SE1 7NA in support of the campaign.

Send for more information.

I would like more information about the SHELL boycott
